1. Grant

Upon full payment, Licensor grants Licensee a non-exclusive worldwide license to incorporate the instrumental into a new musical recording.

2. Distribution

Licensee may release, distribute, sell, stream, monetize and publicly perform the resulting recording without numerical limits on audio streams, downloads or physical sales.

3. Ownership

Underlying instrumental remains with its rights holder. Licensee retains independently created lyrics and original vocal contributions. Other customers may license the beat.

4. Restrictions

No standalone resale, sublicensing or redistribution of the instrumental, false authorship or exclusive ownership claims. No Content ID registration that interferes with other authorized users.

5. Synchronization

Customer may use the resulting song in their own promotional music videos. Third-party television, film, advertising, games and other audiovisual placements require separate written clearance from applicable rights holders.

6. Publishing and royalties

Fee does not transfer underlying copyright or eliminate producer publishing interests. Agree on songwriting, publishing and royalty splits in a separate written split sheet before commercial release.

7. Producer credit

Where customary and technically possible: Produced by Ameir2Cold.

8. Duration and acceptance

License is perpetual unless terminated for uncured material breach. Electronic acceptance and verified payment record the agreement; custom rights begin upon final delivery. Authorized licensor and customer acceptance: [Names / timestamp].
